

Chaco

OTHER WORLDS

THE BEAUTY OF CULTURE BLEND

Paintings, pictures and engravings from the beating heart of South America into New York

March 20 - April 5, 2013

Province of Chaco

PAINTINGS, PICTURES AND ENGRAVINGS FROM THE BEATING HEART OF SOUTH AMERICA INTO NEW YORK

Fertile plains, lush forests, gallery jungles, rivers, wetlands, and lagoons –the natural habitat for parrots, dragonflies and butterflies. The intensity of the weather and geography mingled with the traditions of the native and immigrant peoples in Chaco create a unique language that imprints all cultural and social dimensions with its powerful and unique identity.

Discover the spirit of Chaco in the works presented in this exhibit. The vigor of a multiethnic culture, the majesty of nature, the magic of urban landscape, the rural spirit, the push for labor and artistic creation are all expressions of a language that speaks of the shared project –being proud of belonging to a promising land. Chaco is the secret that beats in the heart of South America.

Ricardo Jara

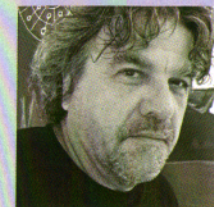

Luis Raota

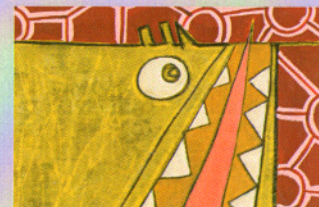

Leonardo Gotleyb

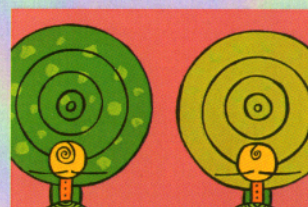

Milo Lockett

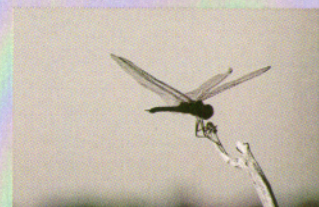

Dante Arias

Luciano Acosta

Martín Roig Verón

Germán Toloza

Argentina Republic

GOVERNMENT OF CHACO

Governor
Jorge M. Capitanich

Vice Governor
Juan Carlos Bacileff Ivanoff

Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, International Trade and Investments
Theresa Durnbeck

Ambassador of Argentina to the United States
Cecilia Nahon

Consul General in New York
José L. Pérez Gabilondo

Cultural Attaché in New York
Adriana Trotta

Consulate General of Argentina in New York · 12W 56th Street, New York, NY 10019 (212) 603 0400
Gallery Hours: Monday - Friday, 11 am - 5 pm